Dan Crary

An Evening of Music from the Depression Era

The San Diego Public Library is proud to welcome award-winning guitarist Dan Crary in an evening of historic songs from the Depression era.

Woody Guthrie, Leadbelly, Son House and Jimmie Rodgers were among the many artists who captured the broken dreams and fleeting aspirations of the poorest people in the country during one of America's darkest hours.

For more than 40 years Dan Crary has toured the world performing classic folk songs and original compositions. A founding member of the seminal Bluegrass Alliance and an originator of the "flat picking" technique, Crary opens a window into the past with both reverence and virtuosity.
